

OUTDOOR ADVENTURE

Four Day Sample Itinerary

Victoria is the ideal playground for outdoor adventure enthusiasts. On land or at sea, outdoor activities are possible year-round in our temperate climate. From zip lining through treetops to kayaking, diving, hiking or cycling, visitors will delight in the wild beauty of Vancouver Island.

Day One

The waters surrounding Victoria are home to an abundance of marine wildlife and are perfect for whale watching. Humpback and orca, or killer whales, are the primary whale species found in the area, but gray, and minke whales are also sighted. Sea lions, seals, porpoise and a number of marine birds are also residents.

Visitors can join local certified naturalists for a guided marine adventure tour to see and learn about these animals first-hand. A marine wildlife tour usually includes a trip to Race Rocks Ecological Reserve, the most southern part of Vancouver Island and of Canada on the Pacific coast. It is Canada's first Marine Protected Area and home to an abundance of marine life. Choose from a zodiac or covered boat – Victoria's whale watching tour operators are available to provide an experience of a lifetime.
